ABOUT THE STREETLAW PROJECT

Hertfordshire Law Clinic works to improve access to justice by providing free legal advice to the local community in areas such as family and employment law. The clinic offers students a host of great voluntary opportunities which provide practical experience designed to enhance their employability.

Our Streetlaw project aims at improving access to justice by demystifying areas of law that affect the wider community. Streetlaw students work in teams to prepare and deliver interactive workshops to school children and community groups about their legal rights and responsibilities.
