BIO

Kate Daly is co-founder of amicable, the top 100 UK startup that is changing the way the world divorces. Kate is also host of The Divorce Podcast. In 2018, Kate was included in 2018's Maserati 100, The Sunday Times list that recognises game-changing entrepreneurs. Kate is popular in the media for offering legal jargon-free explanations of the divorce and separation journey as well as legal analysis.

Kate is a Resolution trained Family Consultant and worked with many of London's top collaborative lawyers during the mid-2000s before starting amicable in 2015.

Since starting amicable she has collaborated with the MOJ digital team on improving their understanding of user-behaviour, has been part of the stakeholder group for HMCTS Reform programme delivering changes to courts and is part of a feedback group to the Family Justice digital team reviewing on-line assets.
